

"Three exquisite performers"
High Performance Review

TRITONIS

TRITONIS

Joel Brown, guitar
Ann Alton, cello
Kristin Bacchiocchi-Stewart, flute

For over a decade, TRITONIS has been delighting audiences across the country and impressing critics around the world. The members of this pioneering trio include guitarist Joel Brown, cellist Ann Alton, and flutist Kristin Bacchiocchi-Stewart. Among the unique accomplishments of this pioneering trio has been the premiere with the Lake Placid Sinfonietta of Concerto Grosso by Robert Delfausse. In recital this versatile group performs a rich variety of styles from all musical eras, and many exciting new works written especially for them. The three talented musicians are not only polished ensemble players, but virtuoso soloists in their own right. Together and individually they have performed at major festivals and concert halls in the United States, Europe, and Asia.

The trio's CD, Five Premiers- Chamber works with Guitar, is available on Albany Records.

"Vibrant, thrillingly alive. State of the art performances"
Albany Times Union

"This music is delightful, accessible, yet provocative. Each piece, each movement reflects its descriptive title and engages the listener in a journey through some imaginative realm. Highly recommended."
High Performance Review

"Musical conception is articulated with finesse and a sure touch.....Tritonis brings true artistry to their task."
Guitar Review

"A unique CD – that deserves to be better known." (translation).
Dernieres Nouvelles D'Alsace

contact:
Ann Alton
annalton.com

photo by Emma Dodge Hanson